- A brand new scheme of work
- Ideal for Black History Month

WHO WAS MARSHALL TAYLOR?

- 6 weeks, suitable for Y5/6
- Cross curricular links with literacy, maths and geography

This brand new scheme of work has been written with many aims in mind. Foremost amongst these are a desire to embed Black History in the curriculum, through a sustained topic, and to promote good practice in teaching history.

The scheme is available from 1 September 2007. To order a copy please e mail the school – woodberrydown@hotmail.com. Inside the pack you will get a copy of the scheme itself, electronic resources (PowerPoints, teaching materials etc) and some audio recordings. The cost is £75.

By 10 September there will be additional resources online, including a complete set of children's work and video clips of lessons.

On Monday 10 September we will be providing a free training session on the scheme. The session will be at Woodberry Down (three minutes walk from Manor House station on the Piccadilly Line) from 4.30pm-5.30pm. To book a place, please e mail us. In the session we will run through the principles that underpin the scheme, do some of the activities and look at children's work.
